Dataset Technical Description

.kmz file: This file is complies with Google Earth standard for kml files. Projection: New Mexico State Plane Central, Feet, NAD 83

.pdf file: A map of the individual neighborhood association.

Dataset Assumptions

The Neighborhood Associations are updated as instructed by the Office of Neighborhood Coordination in the Planning Department. Neighborhood Associations often overlap, so there are areas that are considered to be located in more than one Neighborhood Association.

Who Produced the Dataset?

GIS Web Team
Information Systems Division

Email: gis@cabq.gov

Who Owns the Data?

City of Albuquerque, Planning Department, AGIS.
Email: agis@cabq.gov

Why was the Dataset Created?

This dataset was created to identify and map neighborhood associations officially recognized by the City of Albuquerque. The Office of Neighborhood Coordination is responsible for the implementation of the Neighborhood Recognition Ordinance (Ordinance O-92).

How was the Dataset Created?

The .kmz file was created by converting from the “NeighborhoodAssociations” GIS layer. The NeighborhoodAssociations dataset was created by AGIS based on information from the Office of Neighborhood Coordination.

What Similar or Related Data Should the User be Aware of?

Streets	http://www.cabq.gov/gisshapes/kml/Streets.kmz
Parcels	http://www.cabq.gov/gisshapes/base.zip
Address Atlas Grid	http://data.cabq.gov/business/addressatlas/addatlasgrid.kmz
Zone Atlas Grid	http://data.cabq.gov/business/zoneatlas/zoneatlasgrid.kmz

How Reliable are the Data?

The Neighborhood Association boundaries are digitized based on parcel data and information from the Office of Neighborhood Coordination in Planning. The parcel data are digitized using reliable survey information provided on filed subdivision plats. The Office of Neighborhood Coordination verifies the neighborhood boundaries continually and notifies AGIS of any errors or changes. The spatial reliability of the Neighborhood Association data is very reliable.

How Well Have the Observations Been Checked?

Verified by the Office of Neighborhood Coordination in the Planning Department.

Are there Legal Restrictions on the Access or Use of the Data?

The Neighborhood Associations data and corresponding PDFs are for informational purposes only and published solely for the convenience of the user. Verification of Neighborhood Association status and boundary should be obtained from the Office of Neighborhood Coordination in the Planning Department.
